

Rajesh to train under Akram

» Bangalore resident Rajesh Singh will train under Pakistani pace bowling legend Wasim Akram after emerging one of the eight winners in the Gatorade Pacers Hunt 2009 finals. The 20-year-old, son of a retired Railway Police officer from Gorakhpur, will benefit from Akram's expertise and experience at the Gatorade Centre for Pace Excellence in New Delhi from July 15 to 29.

“Inputs from Akram will take my bowling to the next level. It is a great privilege for me,” said Rajesh.
