Katrina adds a royal touch

Katrina Kaif has been seen in a variety of looks, from a urban chic girl to a politician. The Bollywood beauty however, continues to experiment with her looks and is now seen in an ethereal, royal avatar in an advertisement for a popular drink brand. This time around, she is wearing a gorgeous deep red saree with a gold border. Her look has been designed by renowned designers, Falguni and Shane Peacock that reflects simplicity and playfulness, yet oozing royalty.
