

Time for some extreme stuff, Jaipur!

Some of the top international skateboarding, BMX and freestyle motocross athletes will be in the city with their backflips, tailgrabs and flatspins on Saturday

After Hrs Correspondent
afterhoursjpr@dnaindia.net

Jaipur's extreme sports lovers are in for a spectacular experience this Saturday! In the city (and in the country) for the first time will be international athletes in skateboarding, BMX, inline skating and freestyle motocross (FMX) as part of the Dew Xtreme Tour.

The high octane and adrenaline pumping show kicked off in Bangalore and then travelled to Noida and Ludhiana. The action in Jaipur will have a team of 10 professional extreme sport stars—including skateboarding pro and 21-time X-Games medallist, Andy Macdonald; legendary skaters Eito Yasutoko, Takeshi Yasutoko, Sandro Dias; BMX star, Simon Tabron and FMX pros including Jimmie McGuire, Tommy Clowers, Dustin Nowak, Myles Richmond and Mike Mason—showcasing their expertise at the Vidyadhar Nagar stadium.

With VJ Ranvijay hosting the evening, the event will begin with an opening act by a well-known Hindi alternative rock band and will be followed by awe-inspiring performances by the pros on a specially designed mega set-up. Excited to be in India,

JUST BMOING!
Simon Tabron

Andy Macdonald said, "I've been touring the world on my skateboard for 25 years and I'm so happy to be a part of the Dew Xtreme Tours that's bringing the message of skateboarding to India for the first time."

Speaking about the tour, Ruchira Jaitly of PepsiCo India, said, "Adventure sports are gradually gaining popularity and participation in India. And we can't wait to provide Jaipur youth a platform to experience these sports in a safe and thrilling manner," adding that this tour encourages consumers to overcome their inner fears and try something new and explore new boundaries to emerge victorious. The event will start at 5.30pm on Saturday. ●

JAIPUR, SEE MY STUFF! Andy Macdonald on the skateboard