

Ranbir kicks some....!

If it hadn't been showbiz for Ranbir Kapoor, it would definitely have been football, says the actor, who is endorsing a campaign on the sport.

"Football is life for me and if not an actor, I would have loved to be a footballer. It teaches team work, determination and discipline apart from being such an exciting sport," Ranbir said. The actor is the face of a new campaign by Pepsi, which begins with a football-themed ad featuring Ranbir. "I am thrilled that Pepsi is bringing the joy of football to India and am delighted to be a part of this campaign," he added. The television commercial, to go on air Saturday, will see a young football enthusiast giving a cheeky reply to Ranbir, who questions his passion for football. It ends with a delightful take of Ranbir displaying his football skills, with hilarious results. IAN S