Seductive Kat to turn up the heat in new ad

KATRINA kaif is all set to show her seductive side to the audience in a soon-to-be released advertisement for a famous mango drink.

Kat has already started shooting for the ad, which is being directed by a Hollywood cinematographer specialising in underwater shoots.

Prakash Varma is directing the advertisement which shows Katrina trapped in a bottle.

Since her previous ad for the same brand won her great appreciation, this time Katrina has gone ahead and has taken extra time to get the right look in the scenes.
